Introduction

This article describes different Hershey's chocolates and candies. The main products focused on in this article are Hershey's Milk Chocolate With Almonds Bar, Kit-Kat, Reese's Peanut Butter Cups, Hershey's Gold, and Jolly Ranchers.

Milton S. Hershey founded Hershey's Chocolate brand in 1886. Milton started his successful career with a caramel recipe. The first ever Hershey's product was Hershey's Cocoa, it was released to the public in 1894. The Hershey's Chocolate Company provided a decadent treat, they pride their chocolate products of a simple four ingredients: fresh milk, cocoa, nuts, and sugar. The Hershey's mission is to extend the founder, Milton Hershey's, legacy as well as create a treat for all to enjoy.

Hershey's With Almonds

Unlike other chocolate bars, Hershey's Milk Chocolate with Almonds Bar is made of whole almonds and not chipped or partial pieces of almonds.

Other products that feature nuts often have a slightly different chocolate nut coating process. Similar chocolates featuring nuts, like Hershey's Almond Joy (a coconut chocolate bar) usually coat the nut in chocolate before the nut is placed in the bar. Hershey's Milk Chocolate with Almonds Bar is extraordinary in the fact the nuts go directly into the bar without a secondary chocolate
